Committee on Human Rights A2: Thomas Hütte (Germany)

Name: Thomas Hütte
National: German
Languages: German, English and French

Dear delegates,

When I participated two and a half years ago for the first time in the MEP, I had no idea how relevant this project would become in my life. By now I am not only political active, but I have also a circle of friends, which spans over my hometown Potsdam, the whole country and also trough Europe. Aside from my political interest I am really enthusiastic about playing theater.

The MEP has shown me options, but especially new ways of thinking which contributed a lot to my personal development. By being a part of the project, I hope I can do my bit to ensure that the MEP is going to be as important for you as it became for me.

Maybe not my favorite, but a very appropriate quote is: “Don’t spend your time finding obstacles. Perhaps there aren’t any.” by Franz Kafka. Although national borders exist on maps, they shouldn’t create barriers in the people’s mind.

I can’t wait to see you all in Naples,
Thomas